Railways and cleaning belong together

With modern cleaning technology and innovative service concepts, this quickly becomes a competitive advantage.

The industry will come together at the international cleaning trade fair CMS Berlin from 24 to 27 September 2019 and show what is possible today when it comes to traffic cleaning. From technological innovations to new standards and new hygiene products. Europe's most important industry platform shows, on the one hand, the versatile fields of application and, on the other hand, the high innovative power of the cleaning systems, which set the course for the professional cleaning technology of the future.

Clean drives better

Not only do passengers and travellers want proper service and trains to be on time, they also expect train compartments, waiting areas and stations to be clean. Complex processes, skilled cleaning and thorough organisation are required to ensure that vehicles, stations and platforms meet the desired levels of cleanliness and hygiene. Highly competent experts on the subject of cleaning transport vehicles will be presenting their wide-ranging solutions at CMS Berlin 2019.

The Mobility Cleaning Circle highlights the successful combination of the expertise of two industries. This exclusive format, which gathers rail and cleaning industry members and is an invitation to network at 25 September 2019.

B2B format expands at CMS Berlin 2019

CMS 2019 invites rail industry professionals from around the world to gain a comprehensive market overview of the wide range of cleaning machines and cleaning agents which the cleaning industry has to offer for specific railway applications.

Exhibitors at CMS 2019 will present new technologies and digitalised solutions that will help to make work processes on trains, buses and aeroplanes more efficient. Together with service providers and the cleaning industry, representatives of transport companies will participate in a unique platform that enables an informative exchange of views and offers an opportunity to establish new business contacts.

In addition to exhibitors of cleaning agents and cleaning machines, companies displaying washroom and waste disposal products, equipment as well as specialist wholesalers will also be taking part.

CMS Berlin: Innovation for clean travel

CMS Berlin is the international platform for expertise in the cleaning and hygiene market. The industry's innovation showcase offers a successful combination of trade fair, congress and networking events. Whether with the Mobility Cleaning Circle, the presentation of the Purus Innovation Award or the CMS World Summit, CMS Berlin always has its finger on the pulse and invites the worldwide decision-makers and creative minds of the cleaning industry to Berlin.

The Mobility Cleaning Circle is an exclusive event co-organised by InnoTrans and CMS Berlin
